MEDICINAL.

THE SCHOOL BOY

— is often a sufferer from headache. The seat of headache is not in the brain, for if you regulate the stomach and bowels you will cure it. Too much brain-work and brain-bruise brings on a rush of blood to the head with headache, dizziness or "nose bleed."

Miss BERTHA WOLFE, of Dayton, Ohio, writes: "I suffered from loss of appetite, constipation, neuralgia, and great weakness, and had terrible attacks of sick headache very frequently; also, nose bleed. My health was so poor that I was not able to go to school for two years. I took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and in a short time I was strong and well. Many friends are taking your medicines, seeing what they have done for me."

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

MR. STEVENS'S DEATH.

A CASE OF GREAT INTEREST TO SURGEONS.

Yesterday's New York Recorder has the following notice of the death of Mr. John Stevens, recently mentioned in the GAZETTE:

John Stevens, eldest son of the late E. A. Stevens, died suddenly Monday morning at 2:30 o'clock, in the old family mansion, Castle Point, Hoboken, N. J.

Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause of death, although Mr. Stevens had suffered for years from a delicate operation performed on him.

John Stevens was born in Castle Point thirty-eight years ago. He married Miss Mary McGuire, a beautiful young lady, whose home was in Virginia. The couple were blessed with two children, a son and a daughter, both of whom are living. The family had a handsome residence in Elizabethtown, Essex county, N. J., but for some time have lived in Castle Point.

Mr. Stevens's wealth was estimated at $20,000,000. As the eldest son he received the largest share of his father's fortune. He was known for his charity, and never refused an appeal where he found the cause worthy.

The funeral will take place on Thursday night from Trinity Church. The burial will be in the old Dutch cemetery in Jersey City.

The World's account of Mr. Stevens's death says:

He was attended in his last hours by Dr. W. R. Fisher, the family physician, and Drs. Hunter McGuire and Stewart McGuire. Death was ascribed, in the notices sent out, to heart failure, but all day yesterday the rumor was persistently repeated that this heart failure was due to exhaustion following an operation for the removal of a cancer.

Mr. Stevens's mother was a Miss Dod, a sister of the eminent Princeton professor of metaphysics, and his father was the seventh son of the famous John Stevens, engineer and inventor, the founder of the family fortunes. He was born with a species of cancer, which, during his infancy, was the subject of many anxious family consultations.

The tumorous growth spread rapidly. The family, however, declined to assume the risk of an operation during his minority, and left the question for him to decide afterwards.

Fourteen years ago Mr. Stevens went abroad to consult surgical authorities in London and Paris. He offered fabulous sums for relief, but all were afraid to treat him, or could not guarantee a cure. Before leaving home he was besought by the late Father Corrigan the pugnacious rector of the Church of Our Lady of Grace, Hoboken, whose clashes with Bishop Wigger gave him notoriety a few years ago, to visit Rome and test the physical efficacy of faith. He went to Rome, and it was told that he would be cured if he joined the Catholic church. The members of his family are reticent to-day about the incident, but it was given out at the time that he refused to abjure his faith.

It was soon afterwards that the death of the famous Siamese twins occurred.

The operations performed upon them gave the medical world much new data and afforded Mr. Stevens's physicians the knowledge they had lacked in the treatment of his case. The knife was applied by Drs. Parker, Chalmers and Skinner, and a great excrescence which had formed on Mr. Stevens's neck, forcing his head to one side and producing a deformity, in regard to which he was very sensitive, was removed. For a few years the relief afforded by the operation was so improved that his health was much improved. The renewed cancerous growth brought a gradual decline and for the past year or so he had been very weak, unable to move around without the helping arm of a valet.

He was a man of brilliant intellect and of kindly heart, but so abnormally sensitive that he led a retired life except for his business pursuits.

Dr. Fisher and the members of the Stevens family decline to state whether any recent operation was performed.

[Mr. Stevens was known to many residents of Clarke county, he having married in 1856 Miss Mary McGuire, daughter of the late David McGuire, of that county. He was also a brother-in-law of the late Hon. E. P. C. Lewis, who was Minister to Portugal during Mr. Cleveland's first presidential term.]

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It indeed is a grand remedy. I recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by L. S. Stabler & Co.

MEDICINAL.

Where Water is Bad

It should not be drunk unless proper precautions are taken. More diseases arise from drinking impure water than people imagine and yet in the face of warning they continue to absorb the dangerous fluid. If you have any doubt—if you are travelling—if you move to a new locality—take no risks but put a teaspoonful of in the glass of water, as it makes it healthy and palatable.

On a journey it is always dangerous to drink much water—take BROWN'S IRON BITTERS along—some people would not start without it, for it keeps them in health.

Look for crossed red lines on the wrapper.
